BOARD ADOPTS FINANCE PLAN FOR STADIUM

By PAUL ZDINAK

PITTSBURGH (AP)-By a 2-1 vote, the board of Allegheny County commissioners accepted a compromise plan today for financing a proposed $45 million sports stadium project in Pittsburgh.

The negative vote was cast by commission Chairman Dr. William D McClelland, who consistently has asked the Pittsburgh Pirates to put more money into the controversy-ridden project.

Commissioner John E. McGrady clinched the approval when he seconded a motion by Commissioner John M. Walker, the lone Republican, that the county accept the city of Pittsburgh's plan. COUNTY FUNJ

The plan provides for the county to put $5,745,000 into the redevelopment phase only. The city of Pittsburgh will backstop most of the other financing, including stadium construction.

The financing plan consists of the original proposal as submitted last Jan. 10 by the Allegheny Conference on Community Development and since amended by Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M. Barr and Pirates' President John W Galbreath.

Development of the project falls into two distinct phases-site redevelopment at $21,720,000 and stadium construction at $23,450,-000. Opening day for the 55,000seat stadium is late 1966 at the earliest.

FEDERAL FUNDS

Presently, the next step is for Pittsburgh to apply to the federal government for $8,980,000 for acquisition and redevelopment of 84-acre site on Pittsburgh's North

This will take about three months, according to John T. Mauro, Pittsburgh urban renewal coordinator. Pittsburgh will contribute $5,745,000 toward buying and clearing the land. The state will chip in $1,250,000.

Then comes the actual construction of the stadium and an adjoining parking lot. This is scheduled to get under way in late summer of 1964, according to Mauro.

CITY BONDS

Pittsburgh will underwrite $21, 450,000 in bonds for this phase with an additional $2 million in bonds to be bought by Galbreath. Parallel with the project will be state construction of the Lower Belt Expressway which will radiate from the stadium area.

Operation of the stadium w by the Stadium Corp., to be formed and headed by Galbreath. The corporation will lease the stadium and sublease it to the Pirates, the Steelers football team and others.

DECISION

PITTSBURG (AP) A two-hour meeting of United Steelworkers executives has left unanswered the question of whether the union intends to reopen contract negotiations with the basic steel industry.

Union President David J. Mc-Donald said the reopening question remains "up in the air" following the meeting Tuesday of the union's International Executive Board. The board was supposed to meet for two days but instead cut it to two hours for some unknown reason.

"The board was informed that that no understanding had been reached on any subjects, either in the human relations area or the economic items on which the contracts may be reopened,' McDonald said, referring to discussions going on in the joint union-management Human Relations Committee.

"The board approved unanimously our efforts to date and gave full consent to pursue the same course in the hope that the mutual problems we face with the steel industry may be resolved within the next few weeks." McDonald declined to be specific as to whether the discussions were leading toward agreements that would avert a possible strike.

NEW RASH OF FOREST FIRES

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)-About 175 acres of heavily wooded land were burned over Tuesday as a rash of forest fires struck the area of the famed Pennsylvania Railroad Horseshoe Curve.

Some 200 firefighters battled eight adjacent blazes for nearly eight hourss before controlling them. A plane also dumped chemicals on the flames.

Henry Herman, state fire inspector for the Gallitzin district, estimated the number of acres burned. Two forest fires erupted in Somerset County. One destroyed about 25 acres of timber near Glade City. The other started about five miles south of Berlin and climbed the Allegheny Mountain range before firemen brought it under control. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

(Political Advertisement) ANNOUNCEMENT

To The Voters Of Adams County

Several months ago I announced my candidacy for the office of Adams County Commissioner. Since then I have tried to talk to as many voters as possible but time has not permitted me to see all of you. Therefore I am taking this opportunity to invite your support and vote for me. Even if I have not personally contacted you I am interested in your problems of county Government. I would like to help bring new ideas together with the aggressiveness of youth to make a more economical Government.

I was born March 31, 1926. Son of Harrison S. and Annie E. Fair. Attended York Springs High School. After serving in the United States Air Force I worked at Knouse Foods for two years. Started Dairy Farming in 1948 which I presently am doing. Was president of joint Church Council York Springs Lutheran Church. Local 4-H leader, Cub Scout Committee member, member of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Gettysburg Moose Lodge, York Springs Fire Dept. Was elected twice to Tax Collector of Huntington Township with a substantial majority. I am presently collector.

I am married to the former Marvel Thomas and we are the parents of two sons and a daughter.

Cooper's Log For Today

CAPE CANAGERAL, Fla. (AP) -Here is a log, in Eastern Standard Time, of astronaut Gordon Cooper's space flight:

2:50 a.m.-Cooper was awakened by Dr. Howard Minners to begin the big day. He had retired at 8:45 p.m., Tuesday.

3:22 a.m.-He had the traditional astronaut's breakfast of eggs, steak and dry toast to top off the low residue diet he had been on for several days. Then he had a physical examination. He had lost a pound from the previous day. 4:24 a.m.-He began climbing into his 20-pound silvery space suit.

4:55 a.m.-Cooper came out of Hangar S, waved at newsmen and officials on hand, and entered the transfer van for the quick trip to Pad 14 and his spacecraft.

5:33 a.m. - The astronaut climbed into the Faith 7 spacecraft and settled for the wait until launch.

6:37 a.m.—Technicians completed sealing the hatch.

6:58 a.m.-The 123-foot tall gantry, a service tower, moved back, leaving the gleaming rocket and capsule standing stark and alone against a cloudless sky. 8:04 a.m.-Liftoff. Cooper was on his way toward space. First Orbit: 8:09 a.m.-Project Mercury officials announced the spacecraft had achieved orbit and was en-Iroute around the earth.
